DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Claims 6-11 directed to a sub-combination have been withdrawn and canceled from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to a nonelected invention. Election was made without traverse for further examination of the invention as recited in claims 1-5, 12-30 in the reply filed on 2/5/2009.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) and the Intellectual Property and High Technology Technical Amendments Act of 2002 do not apply when the reference is a U.S. patent resulting directly or indirectly from an international application filed before November 29, 2000. Therefore, the prior art date of the reference is determined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

Claims 1-2, 4-5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Hilscher et al-7,086,111 B2.

As to claims 1-2, Hilscher-'111 discloses a powered tooth brush comprising substantially all the structural limitations in the claims including shaft 49 (Fig. 25), coupling assembly including elements (2, 54) having a coupling bore to receive shaft 28 (having a circular cross-sectional area) of a powered tool (Fig. 25), transponder 19 and ring-shaped coil 44 embedded in ring 8 (Fig. 20, 14, 17). Notice that the "surgical tool" in the preamble indicates an intended use of the device but does not offer any structural limitation to make a structural difference between the device in Hilscher-'111 and the device in the present invention.

As to claim 3, Hilscher et al-7,086,111 (C 4, L 21-24) discloses sensing element (transponder 19, for example) is disposed in a soft plastic portion.

As to claim 4, element 2 defines a coupling bore having an end opening which communicates with the coupling bore into which ring 8 with transponder 19 is inserted.

As to claim 5, shaft 49 drives brush 4 to cut debris films on the teeth of a user.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 3 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Hilscher et al-7,086,111 B2.

As to claim 3, Hilscher et al-7,086,111 (C 4, L 21-24) does not explicitly disclose transponder 19 is disposed in a plastic ring portion 8. However, plastic is well known material for embedding and sealing and protecting a sensor, such as a transponder 19, because plastic is easy to mold and fluid proof. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to make ring 8 containing transponder 19 of a plastic as plastic is well known fluid proof material to protect transponder 19.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 12-20 are allowed.

Claims 21-30 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
